    Rapunzel's dreamy nature is reflected in lines like "I've been looking out of a window for eighteen years, dreaming about what I might feel like when those lights rise in the sky," and "I want to see the floating lights!".
        Here's a deeper look at Rapunzel's dreamy side, drawing from the movie "Tangled":
        Fascination with the Floating Lights:

Rapunzel's entire life is centered around the annual appearance of the floating lights, which she sees from her tower window, fueling her dreams of adventure and exploration.

Desire for Freedom and Adventure:

Her dreams extend beyond the lights; she longs to experience the world outside her tower, to run, race, dance, and chase, to finally feel like her life is beginning.

Quotes reflecting her dreams:

"I've been looking out of a window for eighteen years, dreaming about what I might feel like when those lights rise in the sky"

"I want to see the floating lights!"

"I could go running, and racing, and dancing, and chasing, and leaping, and bounding, hair flying, heart pounding, and splashing, and reeling, and finally feeling now's when my life begins!"

Flynn Rider's influence:

Flynn Rider's character also plays a role in her dreams, as he represents the possibility of a life beyond the tower and the chance to pursue her desires.

"You were my new dream":

In the movie, Flynn states that Rapunzel was his new dream, highlighting the impact she had on him and his journey

"And at last, I see the light":

This line from the song "I See The Light" encapsulates Rapunzel's journey of discovery and her newfound freedom

"Never stop dreaming":

This quote is a reminder of the importance of pursuing one's dreams, a message that Rapunzel embodies throughout the film   Rapunzel's hair is about 70 feet long and the color of golden sunshine.

    It usually trails along behind her. She spends over an hour each day brushing through it.
    A lock near the back of her head is short and brown. It was cut when she was an infant, and never grew with the rest of her hair.

  What is the true story behind Rapunzel?
    Rupanzel's real story is said to have been loosely based on a true story about a woman, Saint Barbara, in Italy around the 3rd century. The story of Barbara was that she was so beautiful that her father felt he had to lock her in a tower to protect her.
